SMALL CHANGE IN

No interpretation meeting of the york is said to be connected with a joint intercollegiate Y. M. C. A. and conference that is to be held looking to Amateur Athletic union basketball the reorganization of baseball.

New York, Nov. 24.—Charles H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn baseball club, today sent a telegram to William H. Taft, saying that Mr. Ebbetts and his associates of the Brooklyn club earnestly hoped that Mr. Taft would accept the office of national commissioner of major league baseball. Mr. Ebbetts assured Mr. Taft of his unqualified support.

Acceptance by Mr. Taft would mean the passing of the present National Commission, which is composed of the two league presidents and a fhird member, and, it is said, would shear Ban B. Johnsont, president af the American League of the powers which have barned for him the title of "baseball dictator." The offices of the new "one man commission would be in New York.

The offer to Mr. Taft is said to have been made without the knowledge of Western presidents of the two leagues.

The conducted in much the same way as intercollegiate football has been handled this winter, service teams filling in the gaps in the schedules of the college fives.

The only change in the rules of the same this year is that the curved end zone which was adopted last year has been modified so that now instead of a curve extending from the end of the courts to a point two feet beyond directly behind the baskets, there is an end zone two feet wide along each end of the court.

This change was explained by Dr. Leach E. Paymont of Princeton.

This change was explained by Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft of Princeton, chairman of the joint rules committee. as follows:

"The only changes in the rules of the game deal with the end zones which were established last year. These zones proved to be a success and the changes this year are made in the light of the season's experience. Consequently the shape of the end zones and the rules governing play therein may be sum-marized as follows: The end zone is a rectangle extending the full width of the court and two feet in depth in-stead of being an arc as provided last

Within the past few months the French military authorities have found this work of so much benefit, where conducted upon an informal and voluntary basis, that they have officially appointed Foyer men in charge of athletics in several training camps and schools. In view of the fact that demobilization is expected to extend over a considerable period, these appointees and others are likely to retain their billets for a long time. Among those now serving in this capacity are included:

Profeccional trapshooters who tour Kansas and adjoining States had been bothered by the promoters of liwells for days and days, until, finally, the Trapshooters' Oil Company was formed in El Dorado, Kan, with a capitalization of $100,000. On August 11, 1916, a lease of 80 acres was secured in the Towanda oil fields. So far so good.

The original investors put up about $100 each. One or two put up an extra $100. All of the investors were trapshooters, amateur or professional trapshooters.
